

Renewable electricity standards

Historically a bipartisan policy

This map shows the party in control of the state legislature (House/Senate) and governors office at time of initial RES enactment. Italicized and underlined text indicates a state with a renewable energy goal.

*Both AZ and NY adopted RES policies through regulatory proceeding, though in NY it was at the explicit direction of the governor. RES policies in CO, WA, and MO were initially adopted via ballot initiative.

Republicans control majority of state legislatures, governorships

Renewable electricity standards

RES strengthening opportunities

RES policies under threat in 2013/2014

Renewable electricity standards

