

INTRODUCING

Green-e Direct

Companies are doing more with renewable energy and carbon offsets to reduce their impact on the environment. They're buying it directly

With onsite generation and long-term contracts with offsite generators and carbon offset projects, companies have more options than ever to shift away from emitting sources and toward projects they can directly impact on their own.

At Green-e, we know that direct purchases of renewable energy and carbon offsets can help incentivize new projects and give companies more control over their energy and environmental portfolios. Green-e now offers third party certification and verification of these transactions to ensure clear title, accurate claims, and requirements are met for leadership and environmental standards, including LEED and greenhouse gas reporting programs.
